Readathon

Monday 4 March- Monday 29 April

During Book Week, we are launching a Readathon. Books and reading are an essential element of our culture here at DSCG and we would like to use our love of books to help others.

We would like you to set a target for yourself to read a challenging number of books/chapters/minutes during the 8 weeks.

Our readathon will help support vulnerable children in Singapore through the 'Spright Academy' at the AMKFSC. Among other projects, we would like to help them set up mini libraries and comfortable reading areas, giving the children access to high quality books. The money we raise will be split between Spright Academy and also our long standing charity commitment with UWS: Gngang Som Toch school in Cambodia.

'Our Heritage, Our Home' is the overriding theme of Book Week. In the libraries, we have focused on British and Singaporean books and, where possible, we would like to continue this theme throughout our Readathon. This could be reading books with Singaporean or British authors, illustrators and publishers or stories set in Singapore or Britain. Alternatively, they could be books that have won British or Singaporean literary awards.

How many of the books you read in the Readathon fit into these categories?
